IDAHO PUBLIC
UTILITIES COMMISSION

3. I have significant professional experience. In my current position at the NRDC, I focus on analysis and advocacy around carbon and energy policies, decarbonization strategies, energy efficiency, renewables integration, and wholesale market reform. I also serve as an expert for NRDC and partner organizations in front of state utility commissions, legislatures, and federal agencies. My research on electric restructuring, alternative utility business model design, and industrial energy efficiency program design has been published in a variety of academic press and journals. I also have served as a witness in front of the Washington Utilities and Transportation Commission and participated in utility proceedings in the states of Virginia, New Mexico, North Carolina, and Wisconsin.
4. My employer, the Natural Resources Defense Council ("NRDC"), agreed to have me testify on behalf of the SRA Intervenors without charging an expert witness fee due to the NRDC supporting the substance of the SRA Intervenors' positions in this case, the national public interest in cases such as these, and the limited resources of non-profit organizations like the SRA Intervenors.
5. However, the NRDC's costs of my participation in this matter have been billed to the SRA Intervenors and have been itemized on the attached Exhibit A, incorporated by reference herein.
6. Based on the necessity to travel to Boise from Washington, D. C. for the technical hearing in this matter, I believe the costs set forth on Exhibit A are reasonable.

FURTHER YOUR AFFIANT SAITH NAUGHT.

DATED this 22 day of March, 2018.

Amanda M. Levin
