Comment: I do not believe Idaho Power Company should be allowed to "change horses in the middle of the stream" and modify the rules and rates that were in effect and agreed upon by both parties when my contract became active. I expect Idaho Power Company to honor this contract, as I know they expect likewise from other entities with which they make contractual agreements.

Comment: I recently invested in adding solar panels to my house. The reason I did so was to lower my Carbon footprint and help with the ongoing problem of climate change.

I also did so with the hope that my financial investment would pay for itself within a 10-15 yr. time frame.

With Idaho Powers changing the rules, it appears that existing Solar Owners will reduce the value of their investment by 50%.

I was hoping to share my solar experience with many of my friends and propose to them that they get on the program and install solar panels for the above (2) items I have described above. Now, I will not try to educate them as the payback does not make sense.

It seems to me that Idaho Powers stance is troubling in that they are trying to give the impression that they are going "Green" by mothballing their coal fire plants and have an overall plan to eventually produce all of their energy production from non-carbon sources.

To clarify my stance: I am a senior citizen just trying to do my part for reduction of my carbon footprint . I wish I could say the same for Idaho Power. I am also sorely disappointed with Idaho Power.

Sincerely,

Mike MacButch

Comment: As a current solar customer of Idaho Power we made a huge investment in putting in solar. The power company is always sending out ways to reduce energy use and asking people to do so. We made this investment under the rules at the time and expect those rules to remain in place. We really feel all of the current solar customers should be grandfathered in under the current rules. Comment: Hello, I have the largest solar array attached to Fall River's electric grid. I paid $76,000 for this array and this was a huge investment for me. I run children camps in an attempt to connect them to nature and I also run an eco based guest ranch. My goal is to raise awareness to green energy and to connect people to nature. We are causing the first mass extinction caused by a species. From the bottom up, I am attempting to improve our situation, in a very complicated world that is becoming more so by the day. I would expect you, as a representative of the human race, to contribute to making improvements towards making improvements for this predicament we are leaving our children. Please feel free to contact me should you like to discuss this at more length. Sincerely, Sierra Scott

Comment: I WANT TO BE GRAND FATHERED IN FOR THE 1 FOR 1 NET METERING IT WAS THERE BIG SELLING POINT FOR CONVERTING TO SOLAR. THAT WAS HOW THEY SHOWED HOW IT WOULD PAY FOR ITSELF OVER THE LONG TERM WITHOUT HAVING TO DEAL WITH RATE INCREASES
