As a solar panel user in Boise, I have a real problem with Idaho Power trying to not give us a one for one return on our power production. I spent a lot of money on my solar panel installation in good faith that I would receive that one for one credit. The fact is that we solar panel users are taking some of the load OFF of Idaho Power's production needs. And, it cost them NOTHING to use the extra power that we put into the grid. There are very few of us solar panel users compared to the over half a million of their customers. You know all the facts, and they are all on our side. IF you side with Idaho Power, you will be hit with a class action law suit. This will be an open and shut case, as Idaho Power can't show that we cost them any extra money, and in fact MAKE them money for nothing. This is simply a power play to eliminate the solar industry in Idaho. It will put local companies out of business if they can't show their customers that they will pay for the product with the elimination of paying Idaho Power. And national companies will leave the area.

If I sent this to someone who is not involved in this case, please forward this to the appropriate person/persons. I would love to have a response to my email.
