Name of Utility Company: Idaho Power

Comment: Idaho Power should not be allowed to change their net metering rate for solar customers. Idaho Power has not made the necessary investments into renewable energy. Private customers, residential and agricultural customers, have made a commitment, both environmental and financial into solar power. We deliver power to the grid. We should also have the net metering rate to offset our power usage when we cannot deliver power to the company grid. Small users are paying to support renewable energy. Idaho Power, a huge corporation, needs to support the individual solar users.
