To whom It May concern:
I wish you didn't have to give Avista any rate hike at all. Just like Linda Mock ^{was} quoted in 28 Aug Lewiston Morning Tribune, we, too, have every penny budgeted and nice extras like going out to eat simply cannot happen.

HOWEVER, Avista simply takes our electricity reading at 32 to 34 days ^{to at} the higher rate ^{currently anything} (above 600 kWhours) to make extra money for "their" people and stockholders. This is a game that I detest but I know will continue. We already buy less food due to increasing fuel. Why can't big corps show some evidence of real outback
