my dear Avista,
You are doing such harm to our poor and
elderly by raising rates.
Why don't you look
within to cut your costs. I'm sure someone or one's could use a little less income or frills! We all must work together

Sincerely

Please describe your comment briefly:

With the economy being what it is and more people out of jobs and money I am against any increase any company passes on to the consumer.

Is anyone who makes these increases thinking about those whom have lost their jobs, have no unemployment compensation, or forced into retirement leaving them far below the poverty level, and have lost everything? How are they supposed to pay for more when they barely can afford the rates now.

Please don't say that Avista does everything to keep costs down. If that were the case there would be no increase. Why aren't you building wind mills like Wyoming and other states to produce energy naturally? And why not with government grants. Seems to me that the President gave 780 billion dollars to the most irresponsible, companies in the Nation, banks. So why didn't he instead spread some of that to energy? Anyone asked that on the board that enables the increases? With the amount of winds in the mountains a lot of energy can be made. And from what I hear the majority of people are very happy to see the wind mills. It's just my opinion.
