

IN THE SUPREME COURT OF THE STATE OF IDAHO

RICHARD KEAVY
Appellant,

v.

IDAHO PUBLIC UTILITIES
COMMISSION and QWEST
CORP, dba CENTURYLINK
COMMUNICATIONS, LLC. ET AL

Respondents

Supreme Court Docket 49844-2022

Public Utilities Commission # QWE-T-21-14

Motions to have inadequacy and corruption of 'Agency Record' exposed; names of all collaborating players identified to wit:

The 'Agency Record' filed intentionally does not include, represent or disclose an adequate history of case details and/or requests for clarity. It is a partial accumulation of details several Deputies A.G. substantially detailed, for adequate consideration, which was then manipulated by other Deputies A.G. for unjust causes. I believe the leader of the earlier effort was eventually unemployed for not complying with the 'preferred' flow and direction the State and its special accomplices sought. The PUC and its collaboration have been in service to the named, defective public utility instead of the people and better causes.

Among other significant trespasses Century Link and its lawyers sought (and seemingly succeeded) to mislead the Commission, the Attorney General's office and staff members of both entities. The details of that one (of many) egregious choice was allowed to be forgiven without any public comment follow up or consequence.

My multiple calls for the Court to be properly informed included a request that it be the party to decide who the complete compliment of Respondents will be. That request, and others, were discredited and by appearance completely and unreservedly ignored.

Respectfully submitted and copied timely to attorneys for Respondent and others on this date.

Richard Keavy
Appellant, pro se.
